Him we preach, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

(Colossians 1:28).

At the heart of keeping the main thing the main thing for any ministry or organization is its mission. As Christians who seek to keep the main thing the main thing in our daily lives, we can find divine direction in Paul’s letter to the Colossians. There Paul challenges us to allow the person of Jesus Christ to capture all of our being—our ambitions, our jobs, our education, our families. As Christians who bear the name of Christ, our main thing is to exalt the name of Christ.

We have a responsibility to walk worthy of the name Christian. Paul describes Jesus Christ as (1) the creator of this world, (2) the redeemer of mankind, and (3) the sustainer of all things. As God and Savior, His is the only name worthy of exaltation, and He is the One that we are privileged to serve. The main thing at Bryan College is education—preparing students to exalt the name of Christ in whatever vocation they pursue.

Based on Colossians 1:28, we have the responsibility to warn and teach in all wisdom, bringing our students to maturity. Our role is to help our students ferret out error and false teaching, and to educate (lead and disciple) our students in walking in wisdom—living in a way that reflects a biblical world and life view. Paul said that this is a process, helping our students on toward maturity in Christ.

Becoming servants of Christ and making a difference in the world goes well beyond being just words in our mission statement—it is the goal we seek daily. We pursue a Christ-centered education for our students not only in the classroom, but also in the community, on the basketball court, on the theatre stage, and in the residence halls.

In this issue of Bryan Life we wish to express our sincere thanks to all those whose gifts enable Bryan College to live out its mission. Because of the contributions of our faithful friends, the college has experienced a wonderful year of growth and increasing educational opportunities:

• The International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education awarded the business department specialized accreditation in business administration, economics/finance, management, management information systems, business management, organizational management, and music administration.

• Our first-ever graduate program, the Masters of Business Administration, enrolled its first 14 students; our Aspire program enrolled over 250 students; and our online distance learning program enrolled 31 students. These programs allow us to extend our influence beyond the borders of our Dayton campus and to unashamedly promote a biblical worldview in new venues.

• Our fall semester enrollment of 920 students includes 641 traditional students with 550 of them living on campus. Our 200 freshmen came from 38 states and six nations and averaged an ACT score of 25 (the 79th percentile nationally for students entering college).

For the twelfth consecutive year,
Bryan is ranked by U.S. News & World Report in the top tier of colleges in the South.

From the stellar performance of our graduating seniors on nationally-normed tests to the continued expansion of the physical facilities on campus, here is a sampling of other 2006 highlights:

- Each year, our graduating seniors take the nationally-normed major field achievement test in their disciplines. The test is produced by ACT and gives us a good idea of how well our students are prepared as they enter graduate school or the workforce. The class of 2005 scored in the 85th percentile in history, 94th percentile in English literature, 95th percentile in psychology and business, and 96th percentile in biology!

- As part of Bryan’s commitment to spreading the gospel and building Christ’s kingdom throughout the world, Bryan’s International Development Center continues to provide mission opportunities in the context of our academic disciplines. By the summer of 2007 we will offer an international mission opportunity in various parts of the globe for every discipline of study.

  Whatever the gifting God has given our students, it is imperative that that vocation be used as a platform for bringing the good news of Jesus Christ to a needy world. The Center provides expertise and assistance in response to learning and educational needs, focusing on nations that are experiencing economic, political, social, cultural, or spiritual transition.

- During the past year, the Bryan Center for Critical Thought and Practice has conducted three outstanding symposia with leading academicians addressing the topics of “Popular Culture and Communication,” “What is Man that Thou Art Mindful?” and “Bioethics and the Meaning of Man,” and published six monographs on these topics. If you would like a free subscription to Illumine, sign up online at www.bryan.edu/1267.html.
Our athletic teams continue to demonstrate excellence on and off the field of play. Our women’s volleyball program was awarded the Champions of Character trophy by the Appalachian Athletic Conference (AAC), our men’s cross country team was runner-up in the AAC as was our women’s volleyball team. The women’s basketball program advanced to the sweet 16 at the national NAIA tournament in March, a first in the history of Bryan College.

The Center for Origins Research (CORE) has recently reopened the Henning Museum of Natural History on the first floor of Mercer Hall. CORE continues to do primary origins research, publishing papers this year on Darwin’s misguided observations on the natural phenomena of the Galapagos Islands as well as the human genome and the language of DNA.

Bryan will soon be offering a minor in creation biology and CORE continues to provide outstanding research opportunities for our students.

Bryan achieved national recognition this year for its participation in the Historic Campus Architecture Project sponsored by the Council of Independent Colleges. The campus, Mercer Hall, Rudd Auditorium, the Grassy Bowl, and the River’s Edge Apartments are all a part of this first nationwide database of architecture and landscaping at independent colleges and universities.

In addition, Bryan College and the Rhea County Courthouse were included in the Religious Heritage Trail for Southeast Tennessee, a celebration of the religious influence on the history and development of this area.

God continues to bless us with new facilities:

A women’s residence hall became home to 120 young ladies this fall; and during Heritage Week in March, we will formally dedicate it in memory of F. E. Robinson, first board chairman of Bryan College.

Rhea House received a makeover this summer and now houses all our...
Advancement Department and serves as an Alumni Welcome Center.

- The Rankin Center continues to undergo renovations, the most recent to house a health clinic scheduled to open at the beginning of the spring semester.

- A 15,000-sq. ft. basketball and volleyball practice facility is finished, complete with two full-size collegiate basketball courts.

- A 3,000 sq. ft. addition to Summers Gymnasium has been completed and houses our athletic training facility. Athletic training continues to be one of our most popular new majors, and we are blessed to have new facilities available for our faculty and students.

- Beginning in March, Summers Gymnasium will receive a major upgrade with a refurbished and redesigned first floor and a new second floor addition. The upgrade will include new locker rooms and fully-equipped cardio, aerobic, and weight rooms for the entire campus community to enjoy.

Thank you for being a vital part of the work described by Paul to the Colossians, “warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.”

Our financial needs are great as the ministry expands, and we appreciate your continued eternal investment in the lives of our students.

Plan this year to come and see the work that God is doing in our midst as we seek to remain ever faithful to our mission of educating students to become servants of Christ to make a difference in today’s world.

Thank you, and God bless,

Dr. Stephen D. Livesay, President

“Our property had increased greatly in value. We wanted to sell and avoid paying a huge capital gain tax. Jim Barth at Bryan College showed us how to sell tax-free, benefit the college, receive large income payments for life, and get added income tax savings.”

☐ Yes. I am interested in high fixed payments with added tax savings. Please mail me a free information package!

Rediscover the legacy
www.bryan.edu/ourstory.com
More than 500 alumni came home Oct. 6-8, to celebrate Homecoming 2006 and to honor the Class of 1981 on its 25th anniversary. Beth Starbuck of Memphis, Tenn., a senior communication studies major, was crowned homecoming queen, and Ross Lee, a senior mathematics/technology major from Fredericksburg, Va., was crowned homecoming king. Both were crowned by 1981 Queen Darlene Ragland LaPlue.

At the Awards Dinner Saturday night, Mr. Cole presented the Alumnus of the Year award to Dr. Don Black, a member of the Class of 1964 and a nephrologist practicing in Knoxville, Tenn. He also named Tom Davis, Bryan’s director of public information, as an Honorary Alumnus of the college.

Director of Athletics Dr. Sandy Zensen inducted the late John Spracklin, ’95, into the Athletics Hall of Fame. Dr. Zensen pointed out Mr. Spracklin’s accomplishments on the soccer field and the character he displayed off the field. With the assistance of several of John’s teammates, he presented John’s widow, Jenny, a framed jersey with John’s number and a Lion of Valor award. The award, created after John’s graduation, is presented to the top male and female athlete at Bryan who model the character of Christ on and off the field.

Center for Law & Government expands

The Center for Law & Government has gone through a six-fold expansion to realize its potential as a Bryan College center.

Originally an umbrella only for the Foundations Forum where legislators from across the country came to Bryan for a legislative summit (in which students had no active part) the center now embraces a wide range of discipline-oriented forums that are integral to a student’s learning in pre-law, governmental, and interdisciplinary studies.

Forums in leadership, as well as those focusing on the international and governmental spheres, have been added. The Commoner Forum, a student-led vehicle in which the burning social issues of the day are discussed from the Christian perspective, has been brought under the center’s leadership, and a unit specializing in the Scopes Trial play and film has been formed.

This latter enterprise is actively engaged in countering the myth of “Inherit the Wind” through reenactments and, hopefully, a professional filming of the Scopes Trial, as well as lectures and symposia. Law schools and bar association meetings are the primary target audience for this assembly.

New financial aid available

Academically qualified students with significant financial need may be able to take advantage of an innovative program that guarantees a financial aid package equivalent to the cost of tuition at Bryan College, Admissions Director Michael Sapienza has announced.

The William Jennings Bryan Opportunity Program is an effort to ensure that financial need does not prevent otherwise qualified Tennessee high school graduates from attending Bryan. The new program is open to students who will graduate from high school in 2007 and enter Bryan in August 2007.

Mr. Sapienza said the William Jennings Bryan Opportunity Program “is a guarantee that eligible students will receive scholarship or grant funds which meet or exceed the cost of tuition at Bryan College. In many cases additional funds will be available to help offset the cost of room and board.”

To be eligible, students must apply before Dec. 31; complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid by Feb. 15, 2007; be eligible for federal aid; and have a total family income not greater than $35,000.

Students who qualify for the program may remain eligible for up to four years by maintaining at least a 3.0 grade average on Bryan’s 4.0 scale and maintaining current financial documentation each year.

For complete information about the William Jennings Bryan Opportunity Program, visit the Bryan College web site at www.bryan.edu/3324 or contact the financial aid office at 423-775-7339.

Zensen scores 200th victory

Dr. Sandy Zensen, Bryan’s head soccer coach and athletics director, was honored Nov. 1, for his 200th coaching victory.

Bryan President Dr. Stephen D. Livesay pointed out that the landmark victory came over conference foe King College. But, he added, Dr. Zensen “is not just about the wins, but about the players.”

Asst. Coach Michael Palmer said in the years he has worked with Dr. Zensen he has seen a man able to balance his drive for success with a desire to conduct himself in a Christ-like manner.

Dr. Zensen thanked his wife, Sharon, for her support and the “500 or so players who have walked these halls.” In accepting a plaque from Dr. Livesay, he said, “All glory goes to God.”
Dr. Paul Boling, Mr. John Carpenter, Dr. Bill Ketchersid, Dr. Drew Randle, Mr. John Stonestreet, and Dr. Jack Traylor were named to Who’s Who Among America’s Teachers 2005/2006. Dr. Boling presented a paper titled “Animals, the Fall, and Pain” at the Evangelical Philosophical Society meeting in November.

Mr. Matt Bollant and Mr. Don Rekoske spoke to the Dayton Rotary Club about the women’s and men’s basketball teams and their programs.

Mr. Alan Corlew had an article titled “Schleiermacher and Romanticism: Ignored Antecedent of Postmodernism?” published in the October British journal Christianity and Society.

Dr. Jud Davis presented a paper titled “Where is the Garden of Eden? A Biblical Study of Rivers and Paradise in the Bible” at the Evangelical Theological Society meeting in November.

Dr. Steve DeGeorge presented five seminars for the Association of Christian Schools International Eastern Europe Teachers’ Convention in Budapest, Hungary, and led the faculty in-service for Harvest Christian School, Watauga, Texas, in August.

Mr. Stefon Gray and Mr. Jason Wasser co-presented the new Microsoft VISTA and Office 2007 programs at the Appalachian College Association Summit in October.

Ms. Jan Green and Ms. Tami Tullberg attended the Tennessee Association of College Stores annual meeting in Nashville, Tenn., in October. Ms. Tullberg, a member of the board, received a certificate of appreciation for her service.

Mrs. Beth Hixson has been promoted from financial services clerk to financial aid counselor in the Financial Aid office.

Dr. Beth Impson had a review of Joshua Wolf Shenk’s book, Lincoln’s Melancholy: How Depression Challenged a President and Fueled His Greatness, published in the October issue of Touchstone: The Journal of Mere Christianity.

Miss Laura Kaufmann served as a panelist at the Tennessee Independent Colleges and Universities Association library directors meeting in Nashville; attended the TENN-Share state consortium meeting with Mrs. Vonnie Johnson and Mrs. Keri-Lynn Paulson, both in September; and served as the Tennessee representative to the Bowen Central Library of Appalachia Council in Knoxville in October.

Dr. Doug Kennard attended the BSG: A Creationist Biology Study Group conference at Cedarville University in June and presented a paper titled “Biblical Anthropology as a Creation and Revelation Framework for Doing Bio-Ethics: With a Focus on Soul, Life, and Person.” He presented papers titled “Melchizedek” and “Second Temple” at the Evangelical Theological Society, and moderated two sessions during the meeting in November.

Dr. Bill Ketchersid traveled with a group of Appalachian College Association professors to Greece in May and June. In late June he was a fellow at a Salzburg, Austria, Seminar on “The Transatlantic Divide: Myths, Realities, and Business as Usual.”

Dr. Ray Legg presented a paper titled “The Object of Their Affection: The Marginalization of Character and Narrative in the Film Adaptation of Their Eyes Were Watching God” at the Southwest Conference on Christianity and Literature/Inscription Conference in September at Abilene Christian University.
Dr. Phil Lestmann participated in Scriptorium 2006 in May, a public recitation from memory of the New Testament, in Hanibal, Mo. He also attended the Appalachian College Association Teaching and Learning Institute at Brevard College in Brevard, N.C., in June.

Dr. Stephen Livesay attended the International Institute for Christian Studies conference in Kansas City, Mo., in July.

Drs. David and Sigrid Luther were guest musicians at Lynn Haven United Methodist Church in Panama City, Fla., in July. Dr. David Luther has been selected for inclusion in the Manhattan Who's Who Among Christian Leaders and Professionals. He performed as a soloist in Handel's Messiah in Chattanooga in October, and played harpsichord for the Tidewater Music Teachers Forum in Virginia Beach, Va., in October, and was keynote speaker for the Alabama Baptist Pastor's Conference in Birmingham, the ACSI teacher convention in Washington, D.C., and the International Christian Schools student leadership conference in Seoul, Korea.

Miss Michele Pascucci spent two weeks in Salamanca, Spain, this summer doing research for her dissertation. She attended the annual conference of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish & Portuguese in Salamanca, and spent fall break in Mexico doing research for her dissertation.

Miss Christy Rodenbeck has been named director of the Athletic Training Education Program.

Dr. Roger Sanders published a research article in August on the classification of the shrub verbenas.

Mr. John Stonestreet spoke at Summit Ministries Student Leadership Conference in Manitou Springs, Colo.; led the teacher in-service program at Vacaville, Calif., Christian Academy; and at the Grace Christian School high school retreat in Staunton, Va., in August. In September he spoke on worldviews, culture and bioethics at a Christianity and Culture conference and spoke at Garden Valley Bible Church in Garden Valley, Texas; and spoke at the Homeschool Legal Defense Association National Meeting in Franklin, Tenn. He spoke at Timothy Christian School, Newark, N.J.; at the ACSI Southeast Regional Convention in Greensboro, N.C.; at Charles Finney Christian School in Rochester, N.Y.; at the Fall Conference on Theology and Life at Mitchell Road Presbyterian Church, Greenville, S.C.; at the ACSI Southeast Region Senior High Leadership Conference at Sharp Top Cove, Ga.; at the Community Christian School in Fort Dodge, Iowa; and at the worldview workshop at First Evangelical Free Church in Fort Dodge. In November he spoke at ACSI senior high leadership conferences in New Jersey and Pennsylvania and the teacher's convention in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Ken Turner presented a paper titled “When Does God Circumcise the Heart in Israel’s Restoration from Exile? Deuteronomy 30: 1-10 and its Implications for the Christian Doctrine of Salvation” at the Evangelical Theological Society meeting in November.

Dr. Cal White attended the fall Dean’s meeting of the Appalachian College Association at Pipestem State Park in West Virginia in October.

Dr. Mel Wilhoit was host for a presentation by Ms. Judy Still, daughter of William Grant Still, America’s first successful African-American composer, in October.

Dr. Todd Wood, president of the BSG: A Creation Biology Study Group, attended the organization’s conference at Cedarville University in June, where he spoke about fossil whales. He spoke to the Rhea County Historical and Genealogical Society meeting in November about the new Henning Museum of Natural History.

Mr. Bruce Morgan and three students attended the National Christian Multicultural Student Leaders Conference at Cedarville University in November. While there, they visited the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center in Cincinnati, Ohio.
